

Community Health

Career Opportunities

Community Health encompasses a program that provides an educational experience that through various teaching, research and service activities is promoting health in Illinois, the United States and the world. Our programs of study focus is in areas of health management, health policy, health education, rehabilitation, disability studies, health planning and administration. With a solid foundation in these areas our students go on to professional positions or graduate school. Students in Community Health can pursue a concentration in Health Education, Health Planning and Administration, and Rehabilitation and Disability Studies.

There are many sectors for job availability. Some include community, human services, health care facilities, federal, state and local government agencies, academic and professional organizations. Listed below are examples of career directions that a degree in Community Health can provide.

Health Care Consulting

Health Education Specialist

Occupational Therapy

Health Management

Epidemiology

Quality Assurance

Health Promotion

Physical Therapy

Physician Assistant

Public Health Educator

Nursing

Health Administration

Physician

Addiction Counselor

Chiropractic

Dentistry

The College of Applied
Health Sciences

University of Illinois
at Urbana-Champaign

For more information on the program of study in Community Health, please visit <http://www.kch.uiuc.edu>, or call (217) 333-2307 to meet with an Academic Advisor.